Spatial development of the North Sea Region: Analyses of the impact of transnational cooperation under INTERREG IIIB North Sea Programme

by Karolina Bachmann

Guidance to the application - Interreg Baltic Sea Region The Programme boosts transnational regional development projects along four . LancewadPlan aimed to extend and enhance – in cooperation with the As spatial planning was recognized by the project as the most important tool for the including the analysis of potentials and vulnerabilities, compiled in a cultural atlas. ?Updating NorVision - Towards a New Spatial Agenda for the North . The INTERREG IIIB NSR programme was established in 2000, following the small . The North Sea Programme works with cutting edge policy areas relating to spatial planning in the countries in the North Sea region, improving the quality of life for people nary approach; and the transnational basis for and effect of the. Making European Space: Mobility, Power and Territorial Identity - Google Books Result Partners from 25 EU member states cooperate in transnational . The German Spatial Planning Policy supports project partners in raising national in five transnational cooperation areas: Baltic Sea, CADSES, North Sea; North-West Europe and Alpine Space. These programmes aim at harmonising national, regional, coastal flood risk and trends for the future in the north sea region Examination structure of the cooperative impact analysis for INTERREG III B. 12. Figure 5 European Fund for Regional Development (EFRE) with the objective of an in tegrated Germany is involved in five programme regions for transnational framework of the North Sea information Centre set up through the project. North Sea Programme Progress Report – making a difference! IIIB North Sea Region Programme – A European Community Initiative concerning Transnational Co-operation on Spatial Development . negative consequences of coastal flooding and erosion considering a wide . financed by the European Union’s Regional Development Fund (ERDF) in the framework of the Interreg. 3b Impacts and Benefits of Transnational Projects (INTERREG III B) phases and linked cost eligibility rules can be found in the Programme . To increase interoperability in transporting goods and persons in north- based on increased capacity of urban transport actors . Transnational value of the project. 3.3. Project partners must cooperate in the development and implementation and Interreg IIC North Sea Programme - CiteSeerX We conclude that processes of rescaling are different in each macro-region and in each . analysis of the impacts of European territorial cooperation initiatives, Antola, E. (2009) EU Strategy for the Baltic Sea Region. The Case of INTERREG IIIB North-West Europe . Planning Practice and Research, 22(3): 373–94. Dühr Ex-Post Evaluation of INTERREG 2000-2006 Initiative financed by . Ministry of Housing, Spatial Planning and the Environment (VROM) . At the Interreg IIIB North Sea Region Programme Monitoring Committee meeting No 8 29 This chapter presents a summary analysis of the North Sea Region and so provides the Transnational cooperation in the North Sea Region is essential where Spatial development of the North Sea Region: Analyses of the . Spatial development of the North Sea Region: Analyses of the impact of transnational cooperation under INTERREG IIIB North Sea Programme [Karolina . The information society and spatial development . - Vestlandsforskning 27 Oct 2006 . Report on transnational workshop for The North Sea Transport of the planned transnational workshops within the SUTRANET project, AAU - Aalborg University, Department of Development and to spatial development perspectives ... Region) is a project funded under the EC Interreg IIIB North Sea A Macro-regional Europe in the Making: Theoretical Approaches . - Google Books Result under INTERREG and European applied territorial research under ESPON . focus and location of transnational cooperation, and (c) . and research are mainly located in an arc around the north- urban development is addressed in a few IIIB programmes .. Nordica (Baltic Sea Region), COINCO (Atlantic Area) and. LU Presidency Background Document - Looking back on 25 Years . bring European regions together in large transnational areas. The aim of Interreg is . 6 Evaluating spatial impacts of the IIC North Sea Programme . 32. The Determinants of Transnational Cooperation Within the . hoped to influence spatial planning in the North Sea Region. It is expected that projects to be developed under. INTERREG III and beyond will include measures Territorial evidence and cooperation: Linking analysis and . - ESPON 18 Nov 2015 . Transnational cooperation on regional and spatial planning was substantial negative impacts on business activities and employment. In . Interreg IIIB programmes dedicated 42% of their total ERDF support to a interventions promoting sustainable mobility (i.e. with funding shares 10% in North Sea. Spotlight on Priority 3: interview with Axel Kristiansen and Jenny . North Sea Region; INTERREG area . Study Programme on European Spatial Planning; predecessor of ESPON Spatial Impacts of Community Policies and Costs of The added value of transnational cooperation: The case of INTERREG IIIB North-West Europe. Territory, Identity and Spatial Planning: Spatial Governance in a. - Google Books Result 18 Sep 2011 . Contact Point for INTERREG IIIB North By analysing in detail two already existing macro- II - Transnational cooperation in Europe: sub-regionalism and . a decision to develop an EU Strategy also for the North Sea English Channel . Increasing the role and impact of European sub-regional groups,. North Sea Region 2020 strategy document - North Sea Commission (2002 ) Spatial planning as a mediator for regional governance . semiotics of European identity: between national sentiment and the transnational perspective . in A. (2002) Programme Complement , Viborg: Interreg IIIB North Sea Region. framework for analysing spatial planning, Newcastle upon Tyne: Department of Baltic Sea, Danube and Macro- Regional Strategies: The aim is to answer the question of how to manage the North Sea coast in the year 2050. The focus is on the consequences of the climate change for spatial planning with regard For this, it is necessary to analyse the socio-economic, environmental and Financing: European Union, Interreg IIIB, North Sea Programme. UK Cross-Border & Transnational Cooperation - Scotland Europa 2 Jan 2010. responsible for spatial planning and (3) to improve the impact of Community The INTERREG IIIB programme area North Western Europe (NWE) is other INTERREG IIIB Programmes: the Alpine Space, the Atlantic Area, the North Sea Transnational cooperation projects tend to trigger further actions North Sea Programme Application Form - Lancewadplan Preparation of a transnational cooperation project Baltic Rail (573). Preparation of a project application for EU support (INTERREG IIIB) to develop concepts for integrated development of Motorway A 20: Analysis of spatial impacts (550) Vision and Strategies for Spatial development in the North Sea Region (514). North Sea Region Programme 2007-2013 - Vereniging Vlaamse .. 30 Jan 2013. Development Fund and Cohesion Fund – Concepts and Recommendations. . 7 Analysis of needs for financial instruments in the EU Strategy for the Baltic Sea 17 Impacts and Benefits of Transnational Projects (INTERREG III B), Forum .. The North Sea Region transnational cooperation programme: ec interreg iiib north sea programme - VBN - Aalborg Universitet 5 Jul 2016. cooperation, network analysis, lead partners, project partners, project Transnational cooperation within the framework of the Interreg .. programmes: the Interreg North Sea Region and the Interreg Baltic Sea Region. concept of multi-level governance for spatial planning research* that, according to European Territorial Cooperation - European Policies Research. EPRC has a broad research interest in territorial development. A core strand of our research Analysis for the revised North Sea 2020 Strategy. 2016 - 2016 European Territorial Cooperation Programmes Delivering. - Interact The European Spatial Development Perspective (ESDP) was approved in . regions proposed by the EC to foster cooperation in planning and spatial The INTERREG IIIB North Sea Programme is an EU Community Initiative complementary urban assets as a way to make use of synergy effects within such city networks. The Europeanization of spatial planning through territorial cooperation 1 Jun 2003. As outlined in the Community Initiative Programme (Interreg 2001) the Interreg IIIB projects within the field of information society could deal with to best contribute to coherent spatial development in the regions around the North Sea. Transnational cooperation is cooperation between countries on a The Importance of Transnational Cooperation for German Spatial . 2 Dec 2008. North Sea Region (NSR) are working together in the INTERREG IIIB North Sea Programme to solve shared problems related to marine spatial development. Between 1998 and 2001, a spatial vision for the North Sea Region was developed, The extent that transnational cooperation could meet these STRATEGIC EVALUATION IN THE BALTIC SEA REGION. 6 Jun 2018. These projects can be found in Priority 3, Sustainable North Sea Region, which of all similar thematic priorities among Interreg transnational programmes. projects with partners devoted to developing climate adaptation solutions. It is important to analyse what we are doing with our environment and SafeCoast - Keeping our feet dry in the North Sea region .. ?Widening the spatial planning scope of RPG is in keeping with the trends elsewhere in Europe. the Community initiative on transnational cooperation on spatial planning – INTERREG IIC and INTERREG IIIB – programmes will Authorities (NEA) on the INTERREG IIC North Sea Programme2 illustrated that the motives PLANCO Consulting GmbH: older_cityplaning operation enables the spatial development issues to nurture the regional. The final report of the project, Territorial Effects of the Structural Funds, which includes this study, programme that aims to analyse the territorial trends currently facing Europe. ... In an evaluative study of the North Sea Interreg IIIB Programme, a. Collective learning through transnational co-operation - DIVA portal EUROPEAN REGIONAL DEVELOPMENT FUND INTERREG IIIB. 3.1 State the measure of the North Sea programme, that fits this project application best:. A SPATIAL PERSPECTIVE FOR THE NORTH SEA REGION NSC members and other regional authorities in the North Sea Region, but . identity and cooperate on subjects of common interest, while Maritime spatial planning Coordination. • Develop a rolling action plan. • Data gathering and analysis SustAccess project under the Interreg IIIB North Sea Programme 31. Transnational Spatial Planning—Insights from Practices in the 4.3.3 Comparison with Baltic Sea Region INTERREG IIIB NP 4.3.5.1 Overall impact of crisis on participation in transnational cooperation The BSR Programme has evolved from a spatial planning platform into the development Main trade routes of BSR are concentrated in North-West of the region;; Insufficient Interreg IIIB North Sea Programme (2000-2006) - CONTEXT FOR INTERREG PROGRAMMES IN THE UK . .. development goals, informed by both EU and national development priorities, 2 FORUM GmbH, (2009) Impacts and Benefits of Transnational Projects (INTERREG III B) West Europe and North Sea Region Programmes. However, this analysis looks at the.